

ACTS of ST. LUKE'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

MAY 2019

Jessica Hitchcock

Welcome

Every Sunday we have the honor of proclaiming that no matter what, you are welcome at God's table. We say it so that those present will know it to be true, but I believe it means a great deal to each of us to say those words and to know, "I am welcome. No matter where I am with my doubts and beliefs at this moment. No matter how crappy I have been to my loved ones. No matter how much I have neglected my connection to God. I am still welcome." This welcome is critical to our identity as a community—we learned that in our D&D (Discernment and Discovery) process. And the welcome isn't just limited to the table around which we receive our holy meal of bread and wine.

At the end of this month, we will provide welcome... hospitality... acceptance... acknowledgement... to women who are getting back on their feet while staying at Interfaith Works Women's Center. It isn't just about feeding them; when we go there and serve the residents and talk with the residents, we see them. And in seeing them we can honor them. Seeing people, not looking away from their need and vulnerability, is a way of welcoming people. This past winter the IWWC needed more blankets, so we sent some because we wanted people to feel warm, to feel comfortable. Those blankets were a different kind of welcome, but a welcome all the same.

A pollinator garden is getting planted on the grounds at St. Luke's, providing welcome to bees and bugs and birds and providing welcome for people who want to DO SOMETHING in response to the climate crisis humanity faces at this moment.

And the people of St. Luke's welcomed guests and visitors to our community on Easter, fed people a yummy breakfast and sent children brand-new-to-us home with baskets full of Easter eggs filled with sweet treats, filled by loving hands. Our bathrooms and elevator had gorgeous flowers in them for Easter. THAT is an extravagant welcome if I have ever seen one!

What other ways do you see the people of St. Luke's welcoming people—no matter what? Are there ways we could be more welcoming? What is YOUR favorite way to welcome people? What is something new that you could do to welcome people to this community?

The vestry has been, and will continue, considering ways that we can further embrace and develop our desire to follow in Jesus's footsteps and offer a radical welcome. You'll hear more about

A Milestone for St. Luke's

We will soon be in the final stage of our Priest-in-Charge process. As a reminder, after Stephanie's (our former Rector's) departure in January 2018, we entered into an agreement with Jessica that she would serve as our Priest-in-Charge for an 18-month period.

Over these past months, the Vestry and Jessica have conducted two performance reviews as directed by the agreement. These are mutual reviews—we reflect on the progress of the parish, the performance of the Priest-in-Charge and the performance of the Vestry. A third and final review will take place at the May Vestry meeting. It is our intention to use our July Vestry meeting to consider whether to call Jessica as our Rector. If we decide to do so, we then enter into a discussion with Jessica and the Bishop about whether that is in everyone's "mutual interest." And if it is, we write a new Letter of Agreement with Jessica to be our Rector.

Yes, there is a detailed process dictated by the Diocese. Yes, we have steps and procedures to follow. But we mustn't let checking the boxes of the process get in the way of how special this time is in the life of St. Luke's. I hope we can use the next few months to celebrate what has come before and what we are poised to achieve. For many churches, the departure of the Rector can be a tumultuous time, with attendance suffering and the unknown future causing unease. Instead, we've kept a steady course, making some changes to adjust to being a one-clergy parish, but maintaining our course and growing in some important ways.

This means we are in a great position as we reflect on our decision about our clergy leadership for the coming years. I invite you to join us, as this should be a time of reflection from all sides. It is a time for Jessica to reflect on her role at St. Luke's and whether continuing with us is the right step on her professional and spiritual journey. It is a time for us as a parish to consider what we need from our clergy leader. And, it's a time for you to reflect on your experience of St. Luke's over the past year. How have we done in supporting Jessica in her role? How well have we adjusted to being a one-clergy parish? Are we the welcoming community we aspire to be?

As always, the Vestry and I will be in listening mode, ready to hear from you. But especially in the next few months, we encourage you to reach out with your questions and your reflections as we reach this important milestone in the life of St. Luke's.

Amy

this. But for now, think of a small way you can intentionally welcome others to the St. Luke's community. Don't worry about whether you are welcoming newcomers or old timers! I work at St. Luke's and I still love being made to feel welcome by you guys. Wear your name tag, introduce yourself to a person who is new to you, exchange the peace with strangers and wait till coffee hour to catch up with friends. Maybe God is calling you to practice this radical welcome away from St. Luke's—at work or at school, in the neighborhood or at the gym? Welcoming takes time and energy but spending both of these on this humble and holy work makes the time and energy spent an offering to God.

Peace & Blessings,

Jessica

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Interfaith Works is a non-profit social service agency that serves more than 16,000 Montgomery County residents in need each year. Interfaith Works operates 17 programs providing a wide array of services, including housing, emergency shelter, vocational training, family mentoring and access to free clothing and home goods. The agency's programs are aimed at helping people in need lift themselves out of poverty through prevention, stabilization and empowerment services.

Volunteers are essential to keep Interfaith Works programs running. The Interfaith Works Women's Center in Rockville is home to 70 formerly homeless women and depends entirely on volunteer donations to feed the residents 365 days a year for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Many of these women are also struggling to address mental health issues. The shelter recently moved into a brand-new facility, which will give residents exciting new opportunities for expanded services on-site, including access to vocational training and health care (medical, dental and behavioral).

Each resident is assigned a case manager. Together, they work to develop action plans for moving forward to find better housing and address the issues that have contributed to the resident's homelessness. The shelter provides a safe, stabilizing environment which helps give a sense of community to those who live there. Last year, the IW Women's Center served 259 women.

More information about volunteering and other needs is available at www.iworksmc.org.

Budget Analysis: We are off to a great start for 2019 with pledges received at 50% of the budgeted amount. Expenses through March are only slightly under the expected amount for the first three months. The Vestry decided that the 2018 surplus would be used to cover the budgeted shortfall for 2019, plus $15,000 would be directed to the Edmonds Fund for Replacement. The Vestry also decided to increase the contribution to the Diocese to match the amount requested by the Diocese to meet its expenses and program goals.

All financial obligations for the year- to-date have been met and bills paid.

If you need to be reimbursed for a purchase or need the Treasurer to pay an invoice, please obtain a Payment Request Form from the Office. An authorized person must sign the request. All requests for extra money or donations by committees, individuals or church members, should have prior approval of the Vestry before solicitation.
